

The commemorative book of the Southern Suburbs Railway project

A brilliant keepsake of a great project

48 MONTHS, 48 MINUTES

The Southern Suburbs Railway in memorable words and pictures

From first concept to exciting inauguration, this official story of the Southern Suburbs Railway is a fascinating account of the people, the technology, the set-backs and the triumphs of this massive undertaking.

In the tradition of the Goldfields water pipeline 100 years before, the project battled not only the engineering challenges but also a sometimes hostile media and fickle political environment. Read the real story behind the headlines.

- How was the bored tunnel operation under the Perth CBD accomplished?
- What were the environmental challenges of the 72km railway project?
- How were the new railcars designed and built?
- Who designed the ingenious methods to enlarge the Narrows and Mt Henry bridges?
- Who were the real characters behind this rail success story?

A book for everyone with an interest in railways

300 pages • 250 beautiful photographs • 60,000 words
